We've Achieved 2,700 Online Objections!

Thanks to your incredible support, word about the proposals is spreading. Banners in local villages, our active social media presence, coverage on BBC Essex on May 30th, and a feature on ITV Anglia News (East) on June 9th (watch below) have all helped amplify our message.

Every Objection Matters!

We deeply appreciate every single person who has joined our campaign and shared it with friends and family. The number of objections so far is impressive, but we need to push even harder. With less than a week to go, we must rally together to reach our goal.

Your Voice is Crucial

We care about our local community and we know you do too. Your feedback is invaluable. If you receive our newsletters but haven't yet objected, now is the time. Your input can shape the final decisions.

Spread the Word!

Share this message with everyone you know. They don't need to live in the area to make a difference. Every objection counts and shows the strength of our community's stance.

Numbers Matter

Regardless of Chelmsford City Council's stance on the number of objections, whether 10,000 is a trigger or not, reaching that number will demonstrate the overwhelming community opposition to this project.
